SCIENCE CARE TO PARTICIPATE IN NATIONAL HOSPICE CONFERENCE

PHOENIX, AZ (Oct. 10, 2008) — Science Care joins the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization (NHPCO) at their 9th Annual Clinical Team Conference, New Frontiers: Expanding Quality End-of-Life Care.

This program offers extensive educational sessions to address a wide variety of topics, including innovative programs in end-of-life care, regulatory requirements, and current industry research.

Science Care representatives will be on site to provide additional education on whole-body donation and answer questions from conference attendees. Resource material is also available, at no charge, to share with hospice staff, patients and families.

“We look forward to continuing to educate representatives from hospice facilities around the country,” said Donna Goyette, Science Care’s Director of Community Relations. “It is an honor to participate in the conference and meet with hospice professionals and volunteers who dedicate their life to caring for others.”

Conference attendees include bereavement professionals, educators, nurses, physicians, social workers, spiritual caregivers, and volunteers from the hospice community. The conference takes place in Dallas, Texas from October 23 – 25. Visit www.nhpco.org for more information.
